

We Are Well Able

Kittie Louise Suffield, 1922

♩=105

1. 'Twas the Lord of hosts that led us out of
2. When the spies brought back the mes - sage, this is
3. When we crossed the riv - er Jor - dan, in the 4. There's no thirst - ing for old E - gypt, since we're

E - gypt's sand; And He led us through the Red Sea by His what they said: "A - gainst gi - ants and walled ci - ties, we can - land we found: Wine and oil and milk and hon - ey, rich - est in this way, And we care not what the cri - tics or the might - y hand, Nev - er halt - ing in the wil - der - ness, but

- not be led"; But a Ca - leb and a Josh - ua said, "They'll fruits a - bound; Spark - ling fount - ains, and the show - ers come up - ten spies say; For the land a - bounds in plen - ty, and we're

His com - mand Gave as - sur - ance we were a - ble to pos - be as bread"; We are a - ble to go up, pos - sess the
 - on the ground; We are a - ble, Hal - le - lu - jah! Let God's here to stay, Won't you come and join us, bro - ther, en - ter

Refrain

- sess the land.
 land a - head. We are a - ble to go up and take the count-ry, And pos - praise re - sound. in to - day? And pos -

- sess the land from Jor - dan to the sea; And, though
 - sess the land from Jor - dan to the sea;

gi-ants tall be there our way to hin-der, God will sure-ly give the vic-to - ry.