

Which Road Are You Choosing?

George Frederick Root, 1871

George Frederick Root

$\text{♩} = 86$

1. Which road are you choos-ing, young friends? Which road are you choos-ing to
2. The "wit - ness-es" ga - ther a - round, And ear - nest-ly, trem - bling-ly 3. Oh, where are you go - ing, young friends? Which road are you choos-ing to take? Just stop here and think what de - pends Up - on the de-ci - sion you wait To see who a - mong us have found The way to the beau-ti - ful take? The Sav-ior in mer - cy des - cends; Choose right-ly for His own dear make; You know that one lead-eth as - tray, And ends in des-truc-tion at gate. The e - vil ones al - so are here, And point to the way which is sake; 'Tis on - ly with Him we can go; We must cling a - lone to His last, And that in the straight, nar - row way You're broad; Be - lov - èd, what - e'er may ap - pear, That hand; But He will lead past ev - ery foe, Safe,

Refrain

safe when the tri - als are past. way leads to death's dark a - bode. Then why are you doubt-ful, young friends? Which safe to His heav - en - ly land.

road of these two should you take? Oh, think of the life that de - pends Up-

- on the de-ci-sion you make.